RATIONALE:

The RESPONSIBLE NETISM movement is aimed at enabling children, youth and adults to put the virtual world in perspective such that they become responsible in their conduct on the World Wide Web as also in the use of gadgets and tech tools. On the one hand, this new awareness will help them prevent abuse and misuse; on the other, it will promote cyber safety and security.

FESTIVAL:

Purpose: To promote RESPONSIBLE NETISM at representative public venues to lend momentum to this one-of-a-kind people's movement.

Structure: RNW festival has been consciously divided into three distinct phases: Articulation, Awareness and Appeal.

ARTICULATION:

In this inaugural phase, we'll host three open-to-all seminars with special emphasis on collegians. Each symposium would have a distinct theme as also a panel of speakers and experts from different spheres related to Responsible Netism.

Vandrevala Foundation's 24 x 7 Digital Distress & Virtual Help Line:

Ahaan Foundation takes immense pleasure in unveiling the Vandrevala Foundation's 24 x 7 Digital distress and Virtual Help line to help online users and digital consumers to address the whole range of technical and emotional queries. The first of its kind in India, this helpline has been incepted by the Vandrevala Foundation, a charitable social enterprise devoted to the larger cause of mental health and its awareness in the country.

Awareness:

This will be a 2-day innovatively packaged event titled "Blending Virtual Reality with Virtues of Reality" within prominent Malls and Gadget showrooms open to kids of all age groups and their parents. The event would provide a platform to explore and understand gadgets while highlighting the acute need for being responsible in our use of internet and gadgets through creative communication techniques aptly tailored to suit the inclinations and sensibilities of growing children.

Appeal:

This being a peoples movement, we urge children, youth and adults to join us making themselves digitally secure and embracing technology with pride and confidence. We strongly believe that collective action can bring about an awakening; we aspire to build a CYBER SAFE WORLD for our children and ourselves and promote Responsible living...
